Artisan Completes Major Project In Arlington, VA

7/28/14

Colonial Village Shopping Center

Project At Colonial Village Shopping Center, Arlington, VA

ARLINGTON, Va. --- Artisan Partners Construction Services announced the completion of a major project to remove and replace the roofing systems at Colonial Village Shopping Center, a 23,000-square-foot retail center on Wilson Blvd. in the Rosslyn section of Arlington.

Artisan oversaw all work done on the project, including the removal of the existing roof and implementation of the new roofing systems. The work was performed on behalf of the retail center's property management company, Rock Creek Enterprises LLC (www.rcgdc.com).

Commercial Roofing & Sheet Metal of Cheverly, Md. served as the contractor for the project.

About Colonial Village Shopping Center:

The Colonial Village Shopping Center was constructed in 1936 for the residents of Colonial Village and the surrounding neighborhood of Clarendon. The commercial building was an integral part of a major real estate venture known as Colonial Village, which was undertaken by nationally renowned developer, Gustave Ring. Today the shopping center provides a balanced mix of everyday services and restaurants, along with ample off-street parking.
